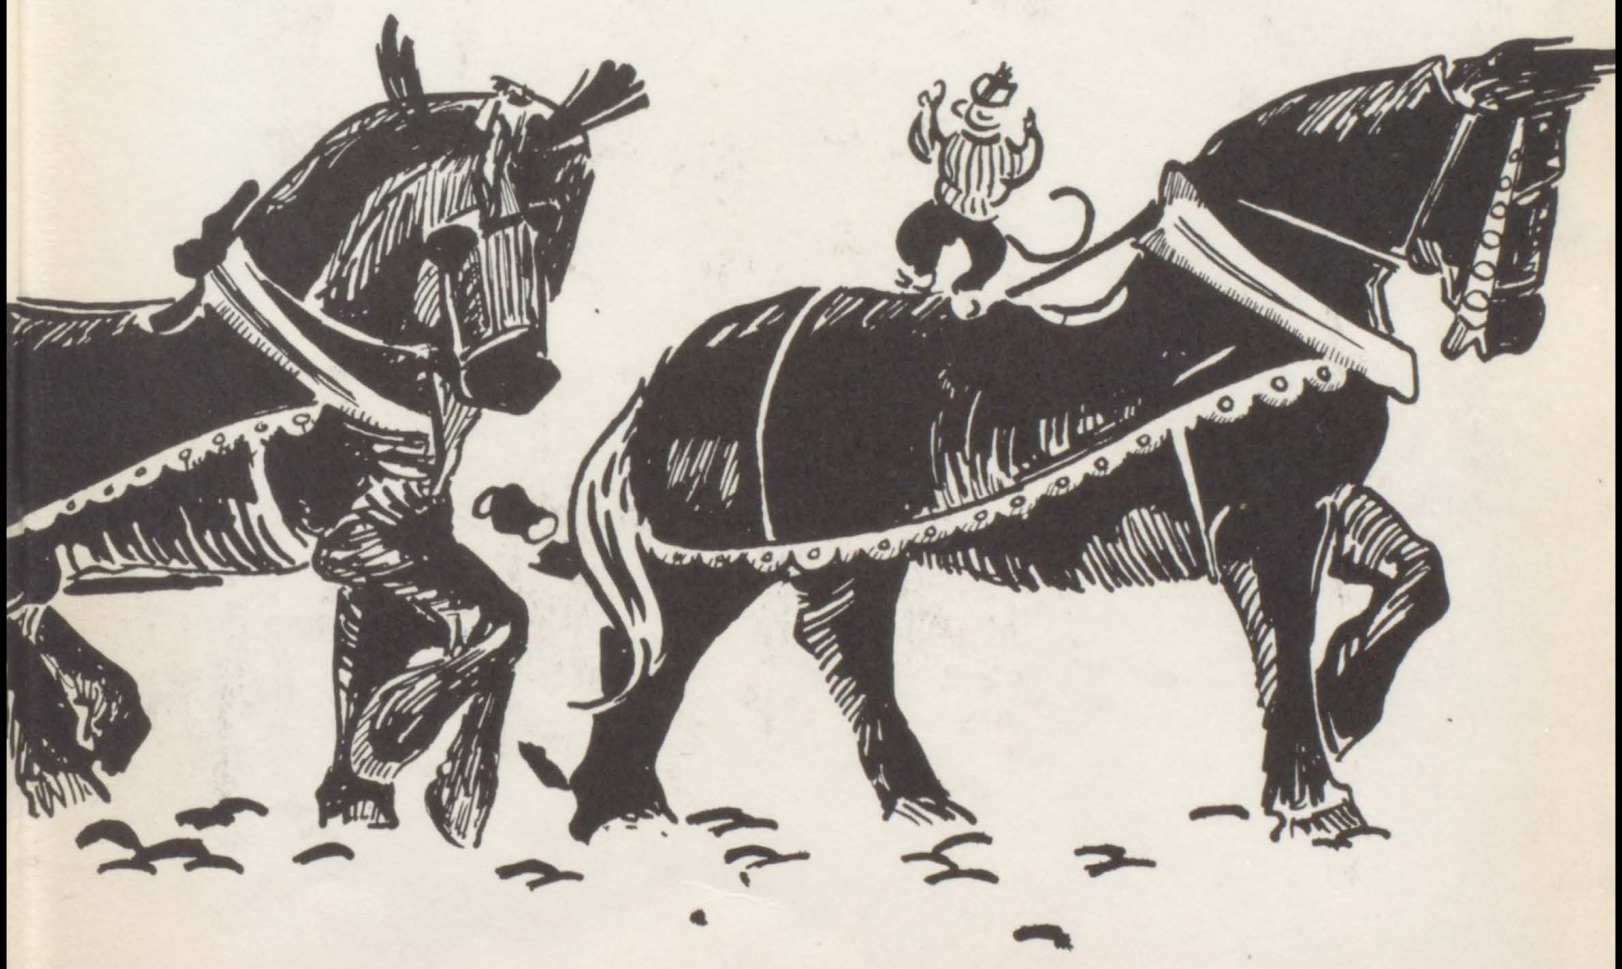
DE-O-WAIN-STA



Theme

Greeting us upon our entrance to the Big Top is the royal fanfare of the circus band and the laughter of children. As we are held spellbound by the roaring of lions and the crazy antics of the colorful members of clown alley, the greatest show on earth begins.

This spectacular show is the result of preparation by hundreds of people, working together, depending on and co-operating with one another. In our school life also, people of many talents must work together to insure the success of every undertaking. The work of everyone, teachers and pupils alike, is a necessity, although the spotlight may not be shared by all at the same time.

The circus performer depends on his associates for assurance that his equipment is in order and even that his life will be safe. Similarly we, as students, depend on our fellow students and teachers to help mold our lives for the future.

In the halls of Rome Free Academy, as well as under the Big Top, companionship, co-operation and good will are essential in order to insure the success of all.

Therefore the De-O-Wain-Sta staff finds it most appropriate to select as its theme for 1956—"Under the Big Top."

Ring Master

The ringmaster . . . Entitled to this high position of honor is Miss Louise Kingsley, Co-ordinator of Extra-Curricular Activities, because of whose careful guidance and planning our school activities constantly meet with great success. Her unceasing efforts in various capacities in behalf of the students have earned respect and affection for her in all pupil-teacher relationships.

With all sincerity, the class of 1956 dedicates this De-O-Wain-Sta to Miss Louise Kingsley, a gifted teacher and an understanding friend.

Gaffer

Lyndon H. Strough

Superintendent of Schools

As head gaffer, or the top brass in circus lingo, our Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Lyndon H. Strough, has many important duties. The leader of all Rome School affairs, this dedicated man faces difficulties with competent decisions which lead to success for the Rome school system.

All for One

The City of Rome and Rome Free Academy, its senior high school, are partners in a great enterprise, each supporting and enriching the other. The public sustains the school, co-operating in attempts to fulfill its needs, and encouraging it in many ways, while the school has a cordial welcome for the adult public.

Perhaps the most important way the citizens of our town support the school is in the form of taxes. Large sums of money every year are given to insure to each student the best education possible.

The Chamber of Commerce, an active, public-spirited group representing Rome business men, offers its time and money to make our school days more enjoyable. To start the year off with a bang and to show them that their work is justly appreciated, the Chamber of Commerce ceremoniously presented each teacher with an apple.

The Business-Industrial-Education Day, an event sponsored by the Rome Chamber of Commerce, gave all Rome teachers an opportunity to visit the business firms of their choice, to see the whys and wherefores of each enterprise. This day, carefully planned and organized for the best use of everyone's time, and for dividends of information to the teachers about business organization and problems, was extremely worthwhile in mutual understanding and respect.

The Chamber of Commerce members, along with all the citizens of Rome, are carefully planning for the educational future of our city and have given up their time to speak to Rome Free Academy students, explaining just what will be in store for them in the next twenty years. Their work is most important in a city of Rome's size and rate of growth and much appreciated by the students who will be the citizens of that future.

The Rome Cable Foundation has expressed its interest in school by offering Herbert Thomas Dyett Scholarships to deserving senior students planning to further their education in institutions of higher learning. This foundation also sponsors, jointly with the Chamber of Commerce, a Self-Reliance Scholarship.

Many Rome citizens, under the auspices of the Guidance Department, offer their time to speak to R.F.A. students about future plans and opportunities in the business world. Also representatives of the police force talk on safety, people of foreign birth tell us of their native countries, and business men and women have been gracious about speaking on many subjects in various class situations.

We students of Rome Free Academy would like to extend our gratitude to the City of Rome, for credit must be given where credit is due.

One for All

In turn, Rome Free Academy also aids the city in varying ways. A tremendous adult education program is carried on yearly in the school, under the direction of Mr. Paige, managed by the Board of Education, and taught by Rome teachers. These courses offer wide and various fields of study, everything from oil painting to shorthand, to each and every Roman, and contribute greatly to the public.

The facilities of the school are also at the disposal of the public. The theater groups, the civic chorus, or any other group which needs the use of a stage or auditorium is welcome in our school. Our stadium, given by public-spirited citizens, returns dividends of pleasure as they watch football games, track meets, and drum pageants. The halls of R.F.A. also serve the public as a voting place.

All Rome Free Academy students contribute generously to public campaigns such as the March of Dimes and the Red Cross, showing their interest in the welfare of the community. At Thanksgiving time food and clothing for the needy are collected in the school.

We are sure that the citizens of Rome appreciate the efforts of the schools and teachers, not only to present their children with the best opportunities for an excellent education but also for the direct benefits to the citizens themselves. We are sure of this; as sure as we are that we students appreciate them.

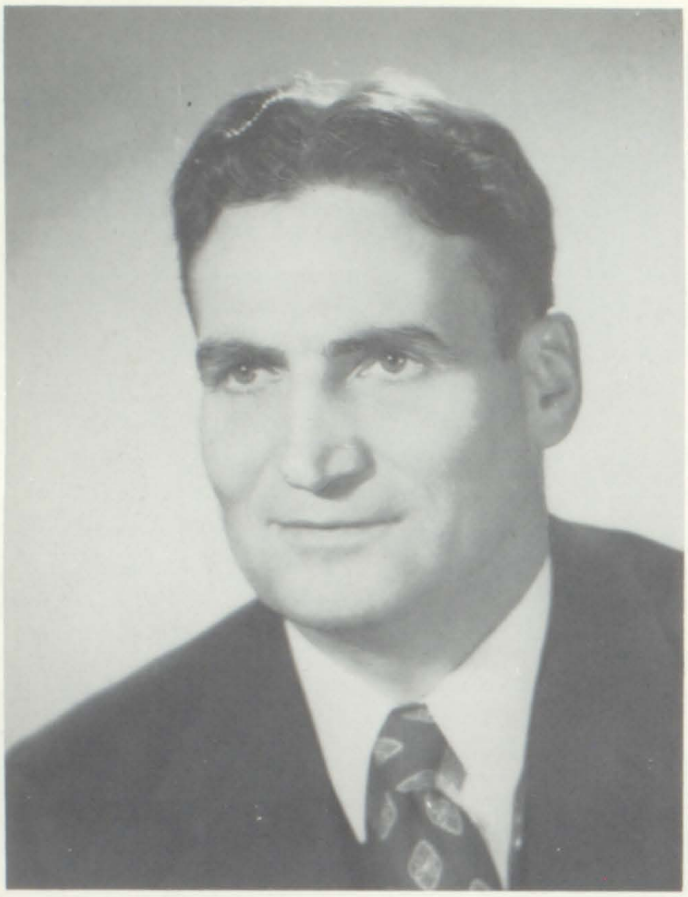
The Patch

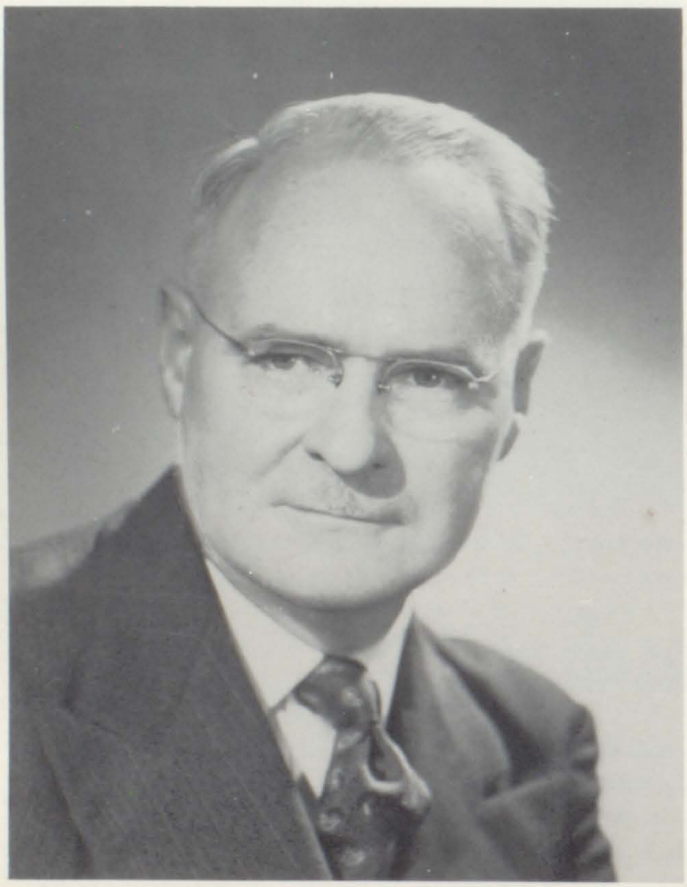
As liaison between the school and the public, the Patch, or Board of Education, contributes enormously to our educational well-being. Through its school building plans, students will be provided with the educational services so desperately needed. We extend our sincere gratitude to these people for making possible the best in education for everyone in our community.

Gaffers



Carl S. Paige
Principal

As chief gaffer of Rome Free Academy our principal, Mr. Carl S. Paige, handles and directs our expected and unexpected difficulties with the utmost confidence. This genial leader has aided us all many times, and as the years go by we will remember his efforts in our behalf with sincere appreciation.



Myron J. Whittimore
Assistant Principal

Serving Rome Free Academy as assistant principal and faculty member, Mr. Whittimore has deeply at heart the welfare of all. This gaffer is a respected, devoted man with whom we all can be proud to be associated.

World History

Features

The life of circus performers is a full one. Continually on the move from town to town, the circus people have many varied types of activities. Giving shows, working to set them up, living, and eating as a unit are just a few samples of their every day curricula.

Here at R.F.A., also, we have a full schedule. We take a great variety of courses. We have many sports, dances, plays and other activities that make up our every day and every year at Rome Free Academy and that gives us a life as rounded as that of the circus, based on regular work and frosted with glitter.

On moving up day, Frank Cook takes over as president of the Senior Class from James Atkinson, last year's president.

With the passing to Frank Cook of the gavel of authority, symbol of leadership of the Senior Class, the class of '56 started its year. It has been a good year, full of the everyday routine and extraordinary happenings that constitute our school life. In this section we will endeavor to bring you a resume of the routine and also of the year's memorable events.

Here is Frank in his north auditorium study hall.

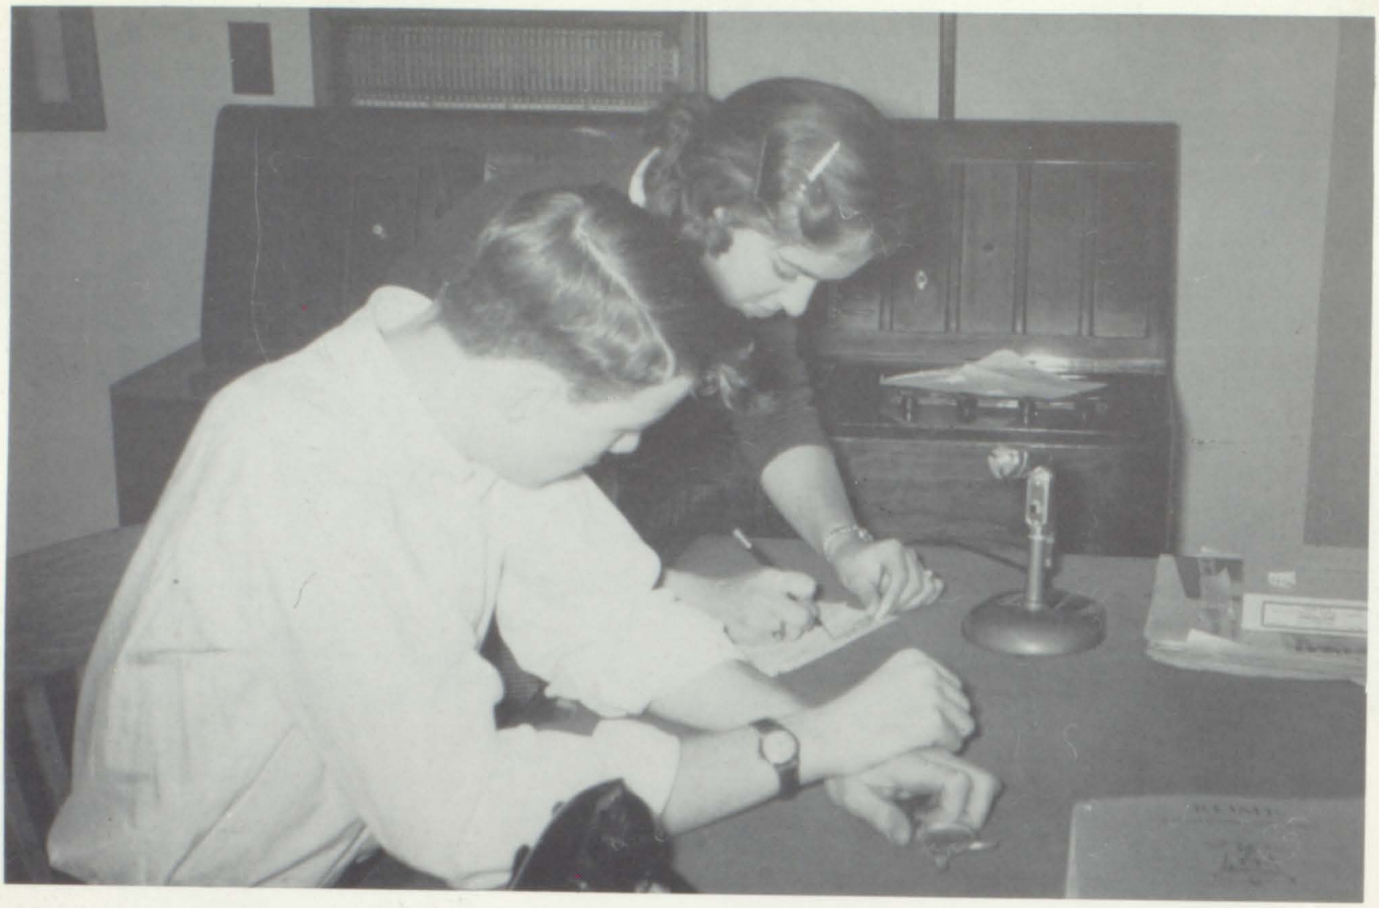
Student Day

Because most of the time at school is spent in classes, we decided to follow a typical student through an average day.

For our student we chose Frank Cook, president of the senior class. Frank is active in school affairs such as Sligerland, Senior Play, BSI, Hi-Y, and sports like cross country. He has a full academic schedule, consisting of French, Physics, Practical Writing, and Typing.

He starts his days as most of us do; getting up, eating, and arriving at school at about 8:15, both he and his convertible still half asleep. Then there is the battle of the lockers, with Frank occasionally coming out ahead. After roll call and the announcments, at which he takes his turn once a week, we pass to the morning classes.

Above: "Well, I'll be shoveling off." Right: Everyone has to dig for the books at sometime.



Frank Cook and Barbara Charlebois, two R.F.A. Lou Barile's, prepare to broadcast the morning announcements.

R.F.A. offers a comprehensive choice of courses, in the following general classifications: English, Social Studies, Mathematics, Science, Languages, Home Economics, Manual Arts, and Fine Arts. With the individual programing they receive, most students' courses are tailored to fit their particular needs.

After the four morning periods, school is recessed for lunch. The majority of the student body goes home for lunch, but many, including Frank, eat in the building and are able to take part in the noontime activities. Students cheer their favorite intramural teams, or go to club meetings. Most clubs now meet at noon because our activity period was dropped.

School reconvenes at 1:00 P.M. and Frank goes to his afternoon classes. At the end of the day he, with the other students, has the option of leaving school after sixth period, or remaining for activities after school.

This day is typical of every day during the year. Not too exciting, but not too dull, this everyday routine makes up a large part of our life at school.

Student Day

Students congregating around the north entrance at noon.

If school life were nothing but going to and from classes, everyone would be bored. Rather than just a humdrum routine, school days are spiced with enough funny, interesting, or exciting happenings to make each one an adventure.

You can see the looks of anticipation on the faces of the students on the first day. Surely there will be many things to remember during the year; traditions, for instance, those occasions which grow richer with yearly repetition.

WE WILL REMEMBER the burial of Utica, the whole school marching down to the Mohawk River to burn Utica in effigy.

WE WILL REMEMBER the Christmas decorations, the sophomores' yearly chore.

WE WILL REMEMBER the box office window, dispensing its rations of whatever kind: food, tickets, even De-O-Wain-Stas.

WE WILL REMEMBER the driving lessons, the dates, the dances.

Then there are the everyday things that we cherish because they are a basic part of school life.

WE WILL REMEMBER the intricate chemistry experiments, the student demonstrations in home economics.

WE WILL REMEMBER the girl in the school store, the posters around the halls, the bulletin board with the "certified list".

WE WILL REMEMBER, finally, graduation, the last act of "the performers". This solemn ceremony is a fitting close to our high school life—the fanfare, the parade, and the circus fades into the night.

Don't worry, Paul, that bunsen burner won't bite.

Well, were we mice or men?

History
Class of 1956

PERFORMERS

Performers, kinkers in circus vocabulary, denote the stars; those who, after years of training and work, finally reach the top glittering with spangles and shining in the spotlight. The performers of R.F.A., the graduating class of 1956, are acknowledged as deserving the Main Ring.

Our recognition is well earned by three years of effort, trial and error, complaints, and headaches. As sophomores, we wandered confused and bewildered through the halls and classrooms. Led by our President, Vinnie DeCarolis, we managed, however, to have the halls of learning gaily reflect the spirit of Christmas in our decorations and to sponsor a successful Sophomore dance.

It may have taken us a while to "gaff to the joint," or, as laymen might say, to understand and get the feeling of this place and situation but, as juniors, we finally settled down to a year of hard work. However, since "all work and no play . . ." isn't much fun, again ably led by President Vinnie DeCarolis, we perked up our spirits by holding our Junior Prom. In picking our theme, we deviated a little from the traditional moonlight and stars and had a successful "Winter Wonderland."

Of course, our senior year was the best of all! We elected Frank Cook to lead us stars through the daily tribulations and triumphs that the main ring brought us. The year was highlighted by the grand Senior Ball, held in May. Moving-Up Day was quite a thrill, too, and we'll always cherish our memories of Commencement. That little diploma is well worth twelve years of hard study.

We wouldn't dare admit it, of course, but secretly, we're a little nostalgic and reminiscent about our school years now behind us, and we know we'll miss R.F.A., the scene of most of our greatest performances and probably of our happiest times.

PROP MEN

A Circus is a complex organization with many more parts than meet the eye on the sparkling surface. There are people who perform silent but vital jobs keeping the circus running smoothly. Prop men in a circus are seldom in the spotlight, yet they are extremely important. R.F.A.'s Prop Men, the juniors, are equally needed.

We have passed the first stage of our training period and are learning to assume responsibilities. We have now reached the half-way mark with many accomplishments and much good fun behind us.

We started out in our sophomore year by electing Joe Tosti, President; Michael Semo, Vice-President; Marlene Marlorzo, Secretary; and Marcia Atkinson, Treasurer. We ended the year 1954 by furnishing the school with beautiful, gay decorations. Our successful sophomore dance was topped only by our Junior Prom held this year. Our original theme, "Rhymes and Rhythms" was a huge success.

Our President, Mike Semo; Vice-President, Doris Hotchkiss; Secretary, Nancy Spadafora; and Treasurer, Pat Burt, led us through the year's jobs as efficient "roustabouts" or workers. On Moving-Up Day we took our rightful place in the Main Ring as the stars of R.F.A. We are now looking forward to proving our worth as leaders during our Senior Year.

History
Class of 1958

THE FIRST OF MAYS

In a circus, the First of Mays are the newcomers, those who have joined while the circus is still in winter quarters around May 1. Perhaps, if one wanted to be literal, the sophomores should be called the First of Septembers, but, figuratively, sophomores are the "babies," the First of Mays of R. F. A.

At first we felt like hulligans or foreigners but, though everything was new to us, we quickly made the rest of the school realize we were around. We accomplished this amazing feat by simply using our brains. Of course, you say, but many students never before thought of resorting to such a desperate measure. We'll note for posterity that by sponsoring a homeroom door decorating contest, we actually moved some seniors from their lethargy enough to contribute their artistic talents to the project, thereby allowing us sophomores to concentrate all our time and ability on enhancing the halls with gorgeous Christmas embellishments, which we did rather well.

Our leaders, Larry Lennan, Elizabeth Bottini, Monica Merola, and Antoinette Belmont, and our recognition, inspired us to even greater heights and our sophomore Dance was another big success.

The next two years should see even bigger and better accomplishments as we sweep on to graduation in 1958.

The '56 De-O-Wain-Sta editorial staff started work on the yearbook with eyes and ears open for new ideas. After the editors were chosen last spring, we met with last year's staff to see if there were any pitfalls we could avoid. There were, and we didn't. Then school recessed for summer vacation and the staff members mulled over ideas during the hot months.

Everyone returned with innovations in mind, and we started planning the book. After the theme was chosen, we did some research, the most interesting being an on-the-spot evening at the circus with a lesson in circus terminology from the ringmaster.

We gleaned much useful information from the representative of the publisher, Mr. Gallinger, and also borrowed several prize winning annuals for study.

Soon after our return to school, Barbara Kraunz, the senior editor, started to schedule appointments for senior portraits. As soon as this was well under way, the other editors began to plan lay outs and get copy and casual snapshots. In January, Mr. Siringo took the club and homeroom pictures.

The March first deadline had a way of sneaking up on a person, and everyone was caught with a few last-minute details. Finally, the last shipment of layout mats was sent, and the 1956 De-O-Wain-Sta was on its way.

BUSINESS STAFF

The De-O-Wain-Sta Business Staff, under the supervision of Mr. Auchmoody, and Business Manager Dan Larkin, took care of all financial matters pertaining to the yearbook. The staff raised, through sale of the book to students, and advertising to various business establishments, the amount necessary to pay for the publishing of the book and the other fees connected with it. In addition, the staff had charge of all publicity, and served as a collection agency for payments for the De-O-Wain-Sta.

There are four traits of character looked for in every National Honor Society member. They are scholarship, leadership, character and service.

The Rome Chapter of the National Honor Society carried on admirably the tradition of service to school and community. The members assisted in many activities in school, such as elections, and taking of the De-O-Wain-Sta Club and class photographs. They also performed valuable service to our community by taking calls and picking up pledges for Lou Barile during his all-night polio benefit.

The Student Cabinet functions as the executive department of our student government and lends a helping hand in the supervision of various school activities.

It is composed of the student association officers, the sophomore, junior and senior class presidents, the Commissioner of the B.S.I., the president of the Inter-Club Council, the faculty treasurer, Mr. Moe, the Principal, Mr. Paige, and the co-ordinator of extracurricular activities, Miss Kingsley.

Among its activities this year were the kick-off dance last September, various assemblies, such as the one from General Electric, and supervision of the polio drive.

This year as its Senior Play, the Class of '56 presented "Penny", under the direction of Mrs. Bates.

This teenage tale centers around Penny Pringle, a familiar character from the funny papers, who has a great passion for boys. Three in particular, Doodie, Elwood, and Cedric the college freshman, have a mad infatuation for her. However, Penny's father, in a devastating editorial against feminine wiles, upsets the whole town. Then Penny entices Elwood, who is the editor of the school paper, to let her retaliate with an editorial of her own, and the warfare is on. These articles cause a rebellion among the boys, who decide to go on a camping trip instead of taking the girls to the prom. Penny's various devices to bring the men around to her way of thinking, and incidentally to pry a new dress from her father, keep everyone in hot water and Penny boiling.

Barb Kraunz, Sue Regetz, Barb Smith, and Barb Charlebois, line up to receive their posts.

Whenever a student at R.F.A. sees an unusually large number of girls with dark skirts and white blouses walking in the halls, he immediately knows there is an assembly in store to break the routine of the day.

These girls belong to a unique club, the Assembly Ushers. They perform a really valuable service by insuring the co-ordination of seating. The girls go to assigned rooms and escort the various classes to pre-determined seats, and then back to the classrooms after the program.

Without this great help, our complicated system of two assemblies would not go half so smoothly.

The R.F.A. Band contributed greatly to school spirit, both at varsity football games, and various assemblies presented throughout the school year.

The music of the band practiced diligently in the auditorium was a familiar sound to anyone in the halls seventh period. Practice makes perfect, and the group, under the direction of Mr. John Wise, gave fine performances at all the games and at the spring music festival.

Among other highlights of the band's year were the band dance, and the spring banquet.

The Bureau of School Information, one of the largest organizations in the school, has three divisions—the Press, Broadcast, and Bulletin. These groups provide valuable experience for their members and much information and enjoyment for the other R.F.A. Students.

The Press Division is responsible for almost every news story and feature story concerning R.F.A. appearing in the ROME DAILY SENTINEL. The editor assigns the story to one of the staff of sixteen reporters, the reporter gathers his information, often contacting many sources, and writes it, the editor edits the story, and the messenger or his substitute transports the story to the SENTINEL office. This is the cycle which is put in motion every time a club has a meeting or information that is news-worthy comes to the ears of the BSI Press Editor. These stories, approximately 300 of them a year, create a public awareness of the school's activities and excellent publicity for RFA. In addition, the Press Division this year wrote a special series of articles for the SENTINEL in recognition of American Education Week.

The Bulletin Division presents the BSI Bulletin, the school "newspaper," in the lighted bulletin board in the downstairs main hall. Each day one-fifth of the staff of thirty-five writes an original column concerning school activities. These columns are changed daily. Special features, such as the baby-photo and football "kick-off" displays, help create interest in an activity which has become part of our school life.

Veritas Vincit is an organization for girls interested in college or some type of professional training after graduation. The club's activities consist of talks by college officials and professional women. Some of the girls have gone on trips to different college campuses. The club's social program was a great success, highlighted by the Christmas party, which was attended by many Veritas Alumnae, in addition to the regular members.

Christmas party, Night in Paris dance, French banquet: These would be the thoughts of any member of the French Club recalling the high points of the club's year. Because all the club meetings were held completely in French, the students had ample chance to improve their pronunciation and vocabulary. Even the P.A. general announcments were made in French to the mystification of the non-French speaking section of the student body. All in all it was a successful year, climaxed by a talk from a French foreign exchange student who goes to school in Boonville.

Displaying all the fire and dash for which the Spanish are famous, La Tertulia Espanola concluded a lively year. The club, formed by interested students only this year, has as its principal aims to acquaint its members with the history and customs of Spanish speaking countries, and to give them a chance to use Spanish in everyday talk and business affairs.

The goal the club pointed to all year was the spring trip to St. Augustine, Florida. Most of the funds necessary for this colorful trip were raised through the many money-making projects undertaken by the group. The sale of combs, stationery, "octupusses", and the familiar brownies in the first floor hall were some of the means of making money.

The meetings were not all hard work, however, because through the year the club held quiz and bingo games, showed movies about Spain and Latin America, and entertained various speakers.

Ping! A bull's eye. Well, not very often, but every now and then, the practice of the members of the Archery Club pays off.

Every spring and fall you can see the girls shooting, out on the athletic field. They have an intramural league, and travel to other schools in the area for interscholastic meets.

The officiating club is made up of girls interested in the school's athletic program. The club carries on discussions of the rules and regulations of the various sports in which R.F.A. participates. A main duty is to referee, time, umpire, and score at intramural basketball and volleyball games. The members also help officiate at out of town school competitions.

Gym Leaders

Woe to the person who has to name this huge club! The Gym Leaders, almost two hundred strong, act as assistants in gym classes. The girls take roll, bring the gym classes to order, assist with class activity, and care for school athletic equipment. Membership in this organization gives credit toward Block R's.

This year the Red Cross Service and Overseas Clubs were consolidated into one organization called the Red Cross council. This was done to insure smoother work between the two groups. The group performed many important services to the school and city. They help spread interest in the blood program by passing out pamphlets at night school classes and baby sitting for mothers who wanted to give blood. The students viewed a feature length film about the bloodmobile.

The club also sent an overseas chest to Africa. This chest contained health and school supplies, atlases, musical instruments, and sports equipment for the group in that country.

The F.H.A. is one of the most active clubs at Rome Free Academy. Its goals are to develop leadership, give service to school and community, and enjoy wholesome fun.

This year the girls performed many services to the community. Through the sale of Christmas cards, the club was able to further their pet project, to bring a little joy to the elderly people in the county home at Christmas time. The members attended a state-wide F.H.A. Rally at Baldwinsville last fall, and led the singing. The students also hold many evening parties at club members' homes.

In addition to the noon hour business meetings, the members held many evening parties and entertainments enjoyed by all.

Italian Club- Projection Club

ITALIAN CLUB

The hotter it is the better it is ---Pizza, Wednesday noon. Everyone in the school, sniffing the delicious aroma, appreciates the work of the Italian Club. In addition to raising money by this means, the group strives to give its members a chance for practical application of the Italian language, and acquaint them with Italian folklore.

The most important event on the club's schedule was a fall trip to the "Little Italy" section of New York City. On this visit the students were able to converse in Italian, see Italian homes and restaurants, and view life nearly identical to that in Italy.

At their meetings the members saw movies, listened to talks by people who had been in Italy, and presented songs and stories in Italian in order to learn folklore.

PROJECTION CLUB

Ever stop to think who's responsible for the movies we see here in school? The Projection Club takes care of all phases of projection in the classes. You can see the members every day, setting up their screens and cameras, and tinkering with them.

Another important service is the supervision of technical details of assemblies. The club members take care of the lighting, stage set-ups, and many other details that insure the smooth running of all programs.

Block R-Hi-Y

The Block R Club is composed of winners of varsity letters. The aim of the club is to promote an interest in athletics both at R.F.A. and among the alumni of the school. One of the projects the club undertook was the sale of candy, etc., at the basketball games. The club also purchased jackets for its members.

Hi-Y is an organization that endeavors to familiarize young men with both parliamentary procedure and lawmaking.

During the year, our officers took over as heads of the city government. Many members also attended conferences at Binghamton, N. Y., and Albany. At these conferences, we took part in discussion groups and were addressed by many speakers. We also held two successful dances, one last fall and one this spring.

One of the most time-honored traditions of our school is the Slingerland Prize Speaking Contest. Late every spring five girls and five boys give their speeches in competition for a year's interest on two thousand dollars. This year, a preliminary contest was held February 27, and the group was selected. The girls were Sheila Glockner, Valerie Pendorf, Barbara Gilleland, Elaine Melone, and Georgia Bowers; the boys were James O'Hara, Paul Boriack, Donald Finlay, Ward Lowrance, and Larry Smith.

Rome Free Academy had one of its most successful football seasons in 1955. The team, with the superb coaching by Paul McKee and the assistance or Ed Weed, pulled in a tally of seven victories and one defeat. Although many lettermen had graduated, the team was fortunate in having a large number of returning veterans.

Rome started the 1955 season September 23 by decisively beating White Plains for the second year in a row. Frank Destito helped the Rome eleven tremendously in yard gainage. Rome Free Academy's score of 21-6 gave the team a good start in the season.

R F A met its rival, Watertown, the following week with an easy victory for the Academy. The defensive team played outstanding football in the first two games, allowing the opposite teams only one first down.

R F A met Aquinas of Rochester in the third game. Halfback Gil Spaller was one of the stars of the game, exhibiting his great speed. Moe Burlison made a spectacular pass of forty yards to Bud Slobodian, who in turn ran for the touchdown. Aquinas was checked on the ground and in the air by an aggressive and hard hitting Rome defense, as the Romans won 18-6.

Rome suffered its only setback of the season and the first in nine games, when it lost by two points to Auburn, 20-18. The Auburn eleven scored touchdowns in the first nine minutes of the game, with Rome coming back in the second half to score eighteen points.

R F A beat Whitesboro in what proved to be a very close game. The score was 18-0 at halftime, but Whitesboro came back to score two touchdowns. Rome then scored one more touchdown and a placement to finish the game with a score of 19-14.

R F A met its oldest rival, Utica Free Academy, on November 5, and once again tasted victory, the score being 21-7.

Rome met Onondaga of Syracuse in the stadium as its final opponent of the season. This proved to be an easy victory with Rome shutting out Onondaga 34-0.

Rome more than doubled the combined yardage of its eight opponents. Rome's total of 186 points represented a game average of better than 23 points against a seven point average for the opposition. The total points gained by Rome's opponents were limited to 59.

Halfback Gil Spaller scored nine touchdowns through the season to set the individual scoring pace for the Rome Free Academy gridders. Runner-up to Spaller was fullback Frank Destito, with seven touchdowns, and third was Bernie Koski with five. Other players who scored were Gerald Smith, Moe Burlison, Dom Falcone, Richard Martin, Bud Slobodian, Joe Campbell, and Vic Ciabotti. Bob Miner contributed nine placement kicks and Leo Barr, one. The team is truly one of the great football teams of Rome Free Academy.

The relay team shattered a 21 year-old record in the 35th Annual Utica Interscholastic Track and Field Meet at Murnane Field, the time, 1:34 in the 880, broke the old record of 1:35.6 set by Nottingham on May 19, 1934.

At a home meet, the relay team sliced a full second and a half off the old Section 3 mark of 1:35 set by Auburn in 1949, by running the 880 yards in 1:33.6.

The relay team was the first New York State Champion in the school's track history. The time in the 880 was 1:32.6. Clarence Van Vechten tied for the high jump with a tremendous height of 6 ft. 1 in.

The team is destined for another successful season with such returning lettermen as Bill Owens, Gerry Smith, Gil Spaller, Ed Sledziona, August Fiorenza, Vaughn Christman and Brian Reh.

Four wrestlers, Leo Barr, Fran Siefert, Joe DiBella, and Larry Burdick won trophies; with Angelo Zigrino, Gil Spaller, Roger Mauer, and Tony Franco winning runner-up spots. "WE SALUTE YOU!"

Salutations to the 1956 graduating class from the physicians of the Rome area. They know the value of your education. They urge you to never stop learning. But their salutations are surpassed by their service. They would like you to know that:

1. With their colleagues in Oneida, Herkimer and Madison Counties they established America's first multiple-county medical program in order to serve you and yours better and more fully.

2. Throughout three great counties they guarantee the delivering of a doctor's care when needed, regardless of time, place or the ability of the patient to pay.

3. They have set up an emergency system so that, when you cannot reach your own doctor or another of your choice, and in an emergency, a call to Rome and Murphy Memorial Hospital will bring medical care.

4. They have established a Mediation Committee to hear any cases of complaint and to assist you in any medical matters.

5. They have taken a stand on matters that affect your health and the health of those in this area.

6. At hospital staff meetings they spend hours in pooling their knowledge for the benefit of the patients in sick beds.

7. In their county medical society they develop top flight educational programs to increase their own ability to serve.

8. They have dedicated themselves to serving the people of your community.

Service is important to your physicians because it is their creed. Yes, your physician salutes you, graduates, but be confident in the knowledge that he is ready to serve you and those you love. For you . . . salutations and service, too!

James Smith and his family of four wished to purchase a home. They consulted a realtor, who showed them this picture. After inspecting the house, they contacted their lawyer and constructed the house, and after the house was purchased, Mr. Smith took out a "blanket" insurance policy to insure the safety of his home from the elements, as well as a mortgage redemption plan, a way to make his home secure for his family.

This case could be applied to anyone in the Rome area. For expert aid in buying a home, consult the firms mentioned on this page.
